

Grażyna and her partner, Grzegorz, live together with their two grandchildren, Sylwia (20) and Tomek (21), who they adopted and raised as their own. Tomek has a son, Filip (4), who he is raising with the support of his grandparents. The five of them live together in a small apartment with two rooms. Some years ago Grzegorz had a stroke, which left him half paralyzed and unable to work. Consequently, a large debt accumulated in rental arrears, due to which they are currently facing eviction. They have not been given a concrete date to move out, and are hoping they will be able to reverse the decision. Grażyna has problems with her spine, which makes it difficult for her to find employment. Tomek and Sylwia are still in school, but Tomek is looking for part time work to help support the family. They are currently struggling to make a living from the little income they receive in social support, which totals to less than 2,000 zł per month. They would very much appreciate any form of assistance.
